Market environment – Fundamental changes taking place

Trend

Client behaviour

- → Fundamental scepticism on the part of clients towards the financial industry since the outbreak of the financial crisis
- → Quick and inexpensive information possibilities for clients via the internet
- → Distinct desire to make their own financial decisions

Demographics

- → Rising life expectancy and low birth rate lead to a significantly ageing society
- → Increasing pressure on state social welfare systems
- \rightarrow Number of people in work constantly falling

Regulation (e.g. IMD II, MiFID II, LVRG)

- → Since 2004 and especially since 2008 intensive regulation
- → In addition to impacting at the product level, regulation also particularly applies to the training of consultants, documentation and transparency

Effects

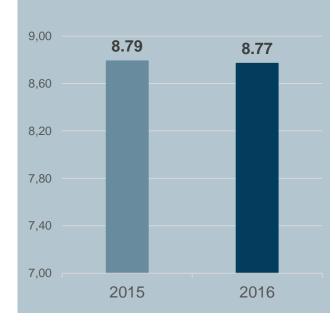

- Intense competition
- Quality of consulting services and differentiation from the competition continue to gain in significance
- Contract conclusion for simple products sometimes takes place without consultation
- Great need for private and occupational old-age provision as well as private health insurance
- Recruiting: Good labour market perspectives leads to a "war of talents" for welleducated/trained individuals
- · Significant rise in administrative activities burdens productivity
- Increase in fixed costs for training, IT systems and administration
- Quality becoming an increasingly important aspect

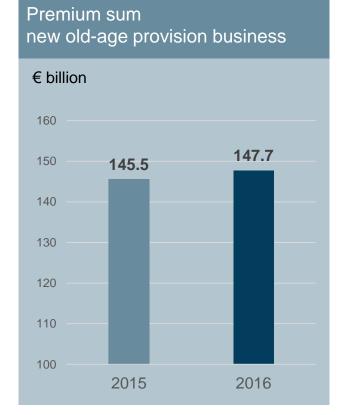

Market environment remains difficult – Sector-specific key indicators

Significant increase in consolidation within the market due to Life Insurance Reform Act (LVRG)

Shrinking Number of insurance intermediaries in Germany

Effects of the Life Insurance Reform Act (LVRG)

- Quality of consultancy and portfolio is even more important
- Sale organisations with a high cancellation rate lose trail commissions
- Major challenges for pyramid sales organisations

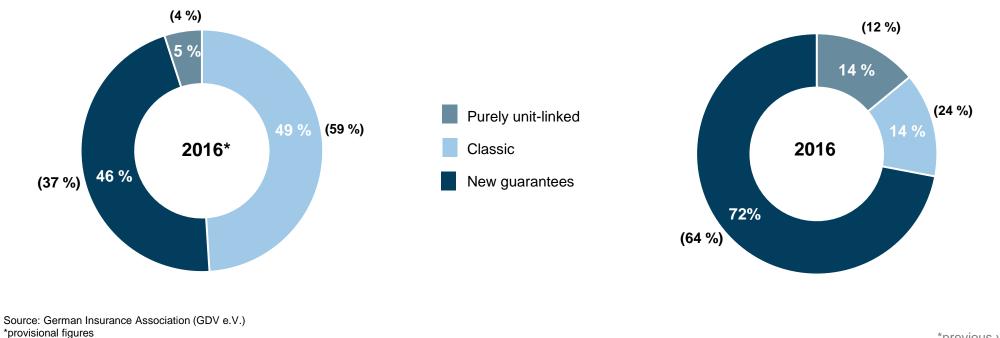

Trend is ongoing and will strengthen – MLP to play an active role in consolidation process

Strategic agenda 2017

Strategic focus		Implementation
1		• Extension of the scope for action regarding future investments through altered group structure
	Organic growth	• Strengthening of the university segment in the private client business through focus on core topics for young clients and consultants
		 Further broadening of revenue basis: primarily through further expansion of wealth management and non-life insurance business Continued implementation of digitalisation strategy: in particular extension of digital information and service offers
2	Inorganic	 MLP Group open to acquisitions in two areas:
	growth	 In the market segment of FERI and DOMCURA In MLP's private client business
	Continued Cost management	 Structural reduction of cost base initiated in 2016 – ongoing efficiency management programme

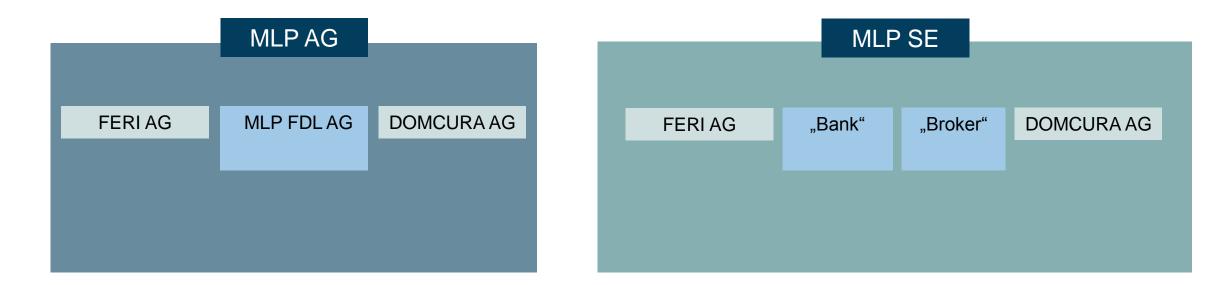

Making MLP more independent of short-term market influences and returning it to a significantly increased profit level

Banking activities with supervisory or regulatory relevance to be bundled at one company in the future

Current structure

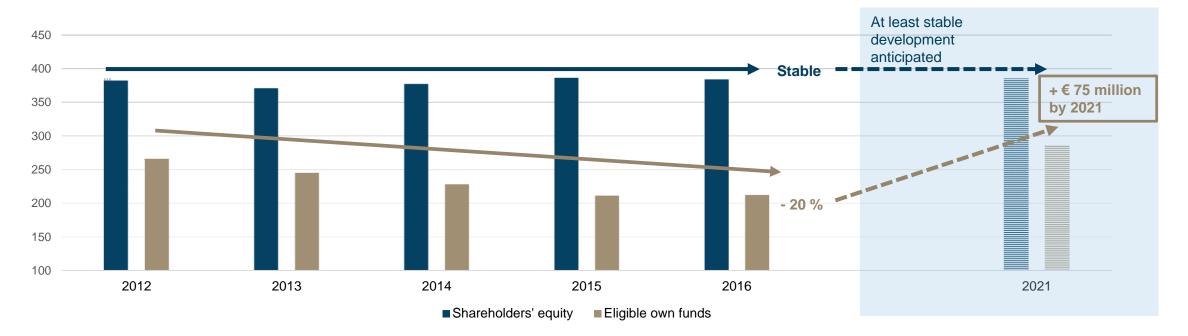

Intended structure as of 2018

→ Current scope of services for clients will be maintained
 → Better opportunities for strategic collaborations

Scope for action significantly extended through new group structure

Effects on equity

 \rightarrow Further strengthening of the business model

 \rightarrow Scope for investments and acquisitions

Sources: Germany's Federal Employment Agency (2016) and Vogler-Ludwig et al. (2016)

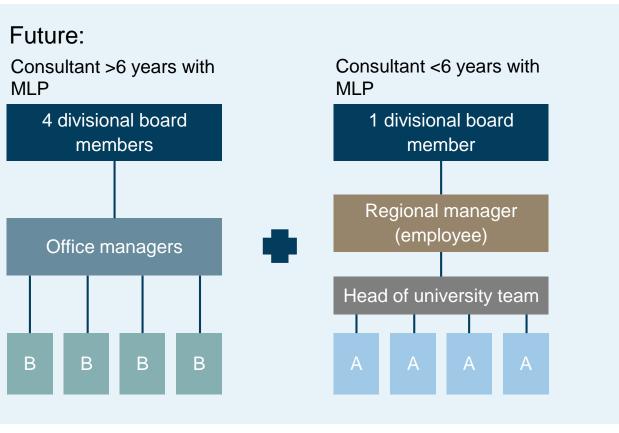

- Increasing potential for MLP in the university segment
- Measures of the last few years are having an impact, particularly the introduction of a training allowance for new consultants
- Sharper focus, among other things by introducing a dedicated divisional board member for the university segment
- Objectives: To further increase presence and gain new clients and consultants more quickly

→ MLP anticipates EBIT of at least € 36 million in 2017 (operating EBIT: at least € 45 million)

- MLP increased important key performance indicators in 2016. In light of market conditions that remained difficult, this development can be seen as satisfactory.
- With the change of the group structure and further strengthening of the university segment, MLP is pressing ahead in 2017.
- Despite the one-off expenses associated with the change of the group structure, MLP anticipates EBIT of at least € 36 million for 2017.
